

LANDING PAGE SYSTEM — DESIGN CONCEPT · V1

Parley

The page that is the cold call.

A real-time sales copilot deserves a landing page that performs in real time. This is the concept, the design system, and every page in the site.

Concept: “The Live Call”

THE IDEA

The page doesn't describe Parley. It is Parley, mid-call.

The hero is a live cold call in progress. The prospect's words stream in on one side of a center waveform "spine." Parley's coaching cards whisper in on the other — exactly what a rep sees over their shoulder.

As you scroll, the call advances through its stages — Opener → Objection → Discovery → Close — and every section is a moment where Parley saves the rep.

Show, don't tell

Feel the product win in 3 seconds.

Scroll = timeline

A pinned call-stage rail turns scroll into narrative.

Objection Arcade

Pick your worst objection — watch Parley counter, live. The shareable loop.

PROSPECT

"Honestly? We already use a competitor.
We're not looking to switch."

● OBJECTION · INCUMBENT

"Totally fair — most of our best customers said the same thing before they saw the one thing they couldn't do. Worth 9 minutes to find out if it even applies?"

► next: book the 9-min. don't pitch.
